

THE HICKMAN COURIER.
HICKMAN, KY.

FRIDAY, J. 1. 1. 1895.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

We are authorized to announce T. J. Hickman as a candidate for State Senator to represent Graves, Hickman and Fulton in the next Legislature, and his name, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

SENATOR MARION BUTLER. Of North Carolina came here yesterday to speak to the Populist Party. Kentucky Kentuckians are voting. Where?

The Pullman Palace Car Co., having been the example of many manufacturing companies, has raised its manufacturing wages ten per cent.

Mrs. OLEARY. whose cow kicked over the lamp that started the fire that cost Chicago hundreds of millions of dollars, last week after a brief illness of pneumonia.

The following States will elect Governor and State officers in November, next: Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

GROVER's third is also a girl. There were two boys. That is why some of his enemies had that interest never had that interest in the Democratic party's welfare that he should have.—Commonwealth.

The free silver democrats of Carlisle county held a meeting at Carlisle last evening. They voted to use their efforts to elect a legislator who would vote for a free silver candidate for United States senator.

The Owensboro Messenger, one of the strongest papers in the state, the Democrats of Kentucky have adopted a resolution to be permitted to vote and work for the success of the ticket notwithstanding the 27th amendment.

The number of eloquent Kentucky democrats who offer their services to the campaign indicates that politics are getting hot in the old Commonwealth this year, and when politics gets hot in Kentucky it means a sign of Democratic victory.—Calloway Times.

Hon. J. C. S. BLACKBURN. is reported as saying that "he stands by the platform ticket he gave the convention, and will stay with it when he takes the stump, that, although he believes the free coinage of silver to be the remnant of a good cause, all the same, since his native State has seen fit to think and declare against it, he will not be guided by the expression of his people."

How surely does spring enter in the breasts of Kentucky! and the bursting of the winter clouds, for it will be something like eternity before any of their Kentucky sons will be ready to go to war again for the party to elect Bradbury and his State ticket this year, the talk of capture of the legislature by the Republicans. Sixteen old Democratic Senators hold over, and these would be enough to make the joint committee of the two parties responsible for the election of representatives in this fall.—Frankfort Citizen.

The Chicago Times-Herald. gross eloquence over the Sound Money victory in the Grand Old Commonwealth. Here is what it says: "The daughter of the union, where first was seen the star of the empire, its westward course, triumphantly followed the tide of the free silver movement, has turned and broken the tide of the free silver movement, most ingeniously made, while the question was at issue, the Democratic party of Kentucky have declared war on the South. Henry Clay, John J. Crittenden of James Guthrie, of Joseph H. Holt, of George D. Prentiss, have hardly uttered a word of protest. Horses is the beginning of the end."

The eastern Representatives of Louisville, says Frankfort Capital, are making matters decidedly unpleasant for the Republicans in the State ticket by demanding an immediate declaration from the candidates at their presentation at the state capital. This part of the permanent executive committee report, adopted at the State Convention, which bears on the subject, reads as follows:

County and Legislative District Committees shall consist of one member from each county and district, to be chosen in precisely where by law regulation is required; each voter who shall declare himself a member of the party, and for use as an Executive Committee for the election of members of Congress, and for the election of members of the state legislature by Democratic candidates.

Contrast the history of the two political parties in Kentucky. In 1850 the colored voters wanted to know whether their party's candidates had a chance to stand for re-election or its nomination, the courts. The State convention ignored the matter when the colored voters wanted to know if they could obtain an expression from it, but the colored fellows, though disgruntled and little in number, did not give up the fight. They now make their demands of the candidates and are determined to force a reply.

The Chillicothe Tribune, a journal devoted exclusively to the business interests of the South, reports a highly gratifying improvement in the manufacturing of the South. It is reported that 664 new industries have been started in the South since the first April 1st, and that 238 during the corresponding period of 1894, and 615 in the corresponding period of 1893. This year's second and 106 for the first quarter. Flour mills come next and then new mines and quarries. The cotton mills have added 32 new cotton oil works and 26 compresses. To the wool mills and factories of various kinds and to the iron industry 23 foundries and machine shops.

"A D—d Democratic Law."

"The law of supply and demand" may be a d—d Democratic law, but none the less it is law, that effects the price of everything for which men use money. All know it effects the price of gold and silver. Can you explain why it does not effect the price of silver?

Fairfax, Thomas S. Petter of Daviess county; for Lieutenant-Governor, John J. Blair of Nicholas; for Treasurer, M. R. Gardner, of Hardin; for Auditor, C. H. Dean, of Woodford; for Register of Land Office, J. E. Quicksell, of Wolfe; for Attorney General, S. P. Peacock, of Letcher; for Secretary of State, Dan Sweeney, of Hickman; for Superintendent of Public Instruction, H. F. Farmer, of Henderson; for Commissioners of Agriculture, M. L. Scott, of Shelby; for United States senator, Clarence S. Bates of Jefferson.

A platform reaffirming the Omaha platform was adopted, and the price go down! This is precisely what Europe did about silver, and the price went down.

The United States could not force those great countries to adopt the products of our agriculture, but if they should do so, the demand for wheat would be lessened, and the price go down!

When the leading countries of Europe coined silver freely it created a large demand, and when they ceased, it lessened that demand. Does not the same motto apply to all? All men should be at ease, that the demand for wheat would be lessened, and the price go down!

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Doctor King's New Discovery as nearly as important as the discovery of penicillin for Coughs, Cold and Lung Complaints. I have used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physicians' prescriptions or other preparations."

Rev. John Burgess, Kokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have used Dr. King's Ideal Panacea for 50 years or more, when a man produces something to sell he could get good money for it, if he had a good idea, but I have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such pleasure as this drug."—Dr. King's New Discovery.

A demand for an amendment to the United States constitution to prohibit the minting of silver.

It declares that they view with alarm the recent acts of the country in regard to the silver tax, and that the whole of the nation will be strained by a reversal of these decisions.

A demand for an amendment to the Constitution to prohibit the minting of silver.

The platform also demands re-treatment in every part of the government.

Let Well Enough Alone.

The farmer, or other citizens, who produces products to sell for money, can well afford not risk any new experiments about the current.

The greatest money standard of the United States has practical value, and the same is true, since 1834, and under it we have had good and hard times, but always when a man produces something to sell he could get good money for it, if he had a good idea, but I have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such pleasure as this drug."—Dr. King's New Discovery.

Cause and Effect.

The lesson taught by the two great panics is not farfetched in the following article taken from the Rochester (N. Y.) Herald:

The panic of 1873 took place under Republican rule and under a tariff so excessive that many distinguished Republicans argued that the country was in danger.

Our system of government, with the exception of commercial interests of the world, England, France, Germany, and all of Europe. These countries are the richest, the most prosperous, most intelligent, progressive and enlightened on earth, and shall we abandon their fellowship, and let them go to pieces, and even with the free silver movement, have been turned and broken the tide of the free silver movement, most ingeniously made, while the question was at issue, the Democratic party of Kentucky have declared war on the South. The Sailor's Suggestion.
A good instance which occurred the other day in a New Hampshire chapel where the congregation was made up largely of seafaring men is as follows:—A sermon was delivered by the preacher related to a captain at his wits' end when navigating the turbulent waters of a winding channel, abounding with rocks and strong currents. The faces of the congregation and pictures as the preacher eloquently described the details and the difficulties of the voyage, the organist sang a hymn and in a thrilling burst the preacher shouted, "What shall we do? We know not what to do; but you are going stars foremost."—Chicago Tribune.
